ADMINISTRATIVE EXPERIENCE

2011-2024

Founder and Executive Director, USC Race and Equity Center [University of Southern

California] and Center for the Study of Race and Equity in Education [University of Pennsylvania]

Founded an interdisciplinary research, professional learning, and organizational improvement center that annually serves hundreds of K-12 schools and districts, colleges and universities, and businesses and agencies spanning a multitude of industries. Relocated the Center from the University of Pennsylvania to USC in 2017.

Select Accomplishments:

- Grew from 4 employees at Penn to 29 full-time staff members, 111 faculty affiliates, and more than 200 field expert consultants at USC between 2017 and 2024.
- Started the Center with a $30,000 investment from Penn. Within its first decade, the Center's revenue exceeded $37 million in grants, contracts, and gifts.
- Singlehandedly secured the Center's largest corporate contract with Nike, which entailed rigorous professional learning work with each of the company's executives and all 74,000+ Nike, Converse, and Jordan employees on five continents.
- In 2020, created the Liberal Arts Colleges Racial Equity Leadership Alliance (71 inaugural institutional members across every geographic region of the U.S.) and the California Community Colleges Racial Equity Leadership Alliance (68 inaugural institutional members throughout the state).
- Generated the idea to create the National Assessment of Collegiate Campus Climates [NACCC], a quantitative survey for higher education institutions. Secured a $1 million Lumina Foundation grant that funded its launch. Developed the survey instrument in collaboration with a team of center researchers and a 30-member national advisory board that included nine undergraduates. Launched the NACCC in 2019; it has since been administered to more than 2 million students at colleges and universities across the United States.
- Singlehandedly secured contracts totaling more than $1 million from the nation's two largest public K-12 school systems: New York City Department of Education and the Los Angeles Unified School District.
- Led the Center's collaboration with two other USC centers on the 2020 Race in America conference, which attracted 2.3 million attendees; hosted and keynoted the Critical Race Studies in Education Association national conference on the USC campus in 2019; and planned and hosted a national conference on the Penn campus in collaboration with the White House in 2014.
- In 2020, led the successful merger of the USC Race and Equity Center with the Center for Urban Education, which existed at the University for 20 years.
- Founded the Center's Grad Prep Academy in 2009, a multiyear initiative that has prepared more than 100 Asian American, Black, Indigenous, Latinx, and Pacific Islander undergraduate men for admission to Ph.D. programs in education and the social sciences. Grad Prep Academy Scholars have earned doctorates from the University of Pennsylvania, Harvard, University of Michigan, Duke, Northwestern, University of Wisconsin-Madison, UCLA, Michigan State, and other major research universities. Several are now tenure-track faculty members.

- Partnered with architects on the yearlong design and construction of the Center's suite of new offices on the USC campus.

Additional responsibilities:

- Serving as the Center's chief executive officer, spokesperson, and fundraiser
- Ensuring ethical practices, mission advancement, and workplace equity and inclusion
- Cultivating and sustaining relationships with prospective partners, clients, and donors
- Supervising six executive leadership team members to whom 23 staff members report
- Leading teams in developing, assessing, and actualizing key performance indicators
- Advising and supporting the Center's Ph.D. students and graduate assistants
- Innovating the Center's products and services, branding and marketing, and programs
- Collaboratively developing and implementing strategies to ensure high-impact work
- Collaboratively creating surveys, other data collection instruments, and research tools
- Recruiting and cultivating a diverse staff [26 of 29 are people of color; 57% are women]
- Representing the Center on USC committees and in meetings with campus executives
- Teaching in the Center's various professional learning programs
- Consistently earning extensive coverage for the Center's research in hundreds of media outlets, including a New York Times front-page feature

2003-2005

Executive Director, Doctor of Education Program, University of Southern California

Provided leadership for the flagship academic program at the USC Rossier School, a top-ten private graduate school of education. Role entailed strategically managing enrollments and recruitment efforts for the most diverse doctoral program among all top-tier schools of education in the nation; serving as the chief student affairs administrator for the program, which enrolled approximately 500 students (at the time); serving in a department chairperson's role; and collaborating with faculty and staff to maximize student satisfaction and engagement, inside and outside of the classroom.

Additional responsibilities:

- Supervising 5 full-time student services professionals and 3 graduate assistants
- Devising and executing a plan to annually recruit 150 new Ed.D. students
- Designing and managing all marketing and publicity efforts for the Ed.D. Program
- Collaboratively developing, assessing, and strengthening the Ed.D. curriculum
- Partnering with the Ed.D. Faculty Governance Committee to develop policy
- Scheduling all courses for the Ed.D. Program and recruiting/assigning instructors
- Assessing student satisfaction and responding quickly to student concerns
- Counseling students on course selection, degree progress, and career options
- Cultivating relationships with alumni and prospective external donors
- Offering and awarding merit-based financial aid to exemplary prospective students
- Overseeing enforcement of judicial sanctions, probations, and student dismissals
- Serving on the Dean's Executive Cabinet

2000-2003

Assistant Director of MBA Admissions, Kelley School of Business, Indiana University

Served as a member of the MBA recruitment team and admissions committee. Role entailed primarily recruiting racial/ethnic minorities; conducting evaluative interviews with 728 prospective students; and annually evaluating more than 300 admission files from a pool of 2,700+ applicants.

Additional responsibilities:

- Managing efforts to increase racial/ethnic minority student enrollments
- Traveling to more than 15 major U.S. cities to recruit prospective MBA students
- Selecting, training, and supervising six Admissions Counselors
- Coordinating the annual Kelley MBA Minority Recruitment Weekend
- Managing a $30,000 minority recruitment and special programs budget
- Recruiting and coordinating alumni volunteers for fairs, receptions, and yield events
- Serving as co-chair of the Women's Recruitment Committee

Summer 2000 Coordinator of Summer Orientation, Indiana Memorial Union, Indiana University

Planned and implemented nightly entertainment programs, tours, and informational services for approximately 6,500 new students and their parents during the six-week university summer orientation. Additional responsibilities included managing a $42,000 orientation budget; securing prizes for nightly and grand prize giveaways; and negotiating contracts with nightly performers. Also selected, trained, supervised, and evaluated a staff of 10 undergraduate student Orientation Assistants.

1999-2000 Program Advisor, Student Activities Office, Indiana University

Advised five of the 13 student programming committees of the Indiana Memorial Union Student Activities Board. Primary duties included assisting students in the development, implementation, and evaluation of over 300 educational, social, and multicultural programs. Additional responsibilities included fostering leadership development, aiding in the management of a $343,000 budget, and assisting in diversifying program offerings.

1998-1999 Minority Greek Councils Advisor, Student Activities Office, Indiana University

Served as the advisor to the Multicultural Greek Council, Pan-Hellenic Council, and the FIRST STEPP Greek Diversity Education Program. Primary duties included advising approximately 200 sorority and fraternity members; assisting in program planning and assessment; aiding in the creation and implementation of policies; and assisting in judicial proceedings.
