2015 Employment Report

USC MARSHALL SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

Two thousand fifteen was a banner year for USC Marshall's Master of Science in Finance program. As we continue to grow, we also continue empowering graduates to reach new heights of career success.

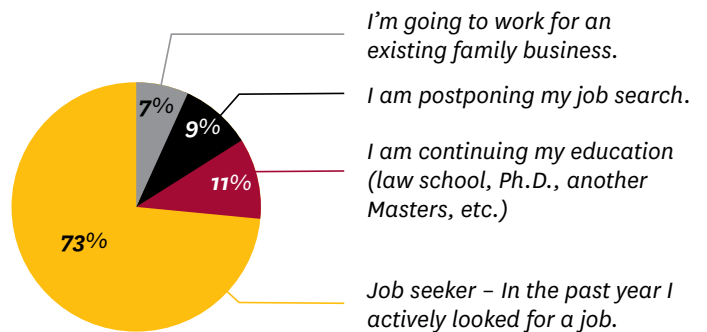

By every metric, our alumni are thriving. This year, MS in Finance graduates pursued and obtained offers of employment in a wide array of industries and a broad range of job functions. They achieved impressive levels of compensation. And they utilized our robust resources and alumni network to customize their searches and advance their individual goals.

Our program is young, yet it has already distinguished itself among similar offerings at top business schools nationwide. The uniqueness of its curriculum, the breadth and depth of faculty expertise and mentoring and the power of USC's renowned Trojan Family – now more than 374,000 members strong, worldwide – have made the MS in Finance a premier destination for students looking to leverage opportunity and jump start their futures.
